2090 MACKAY, MULTI-FAITH CHAPLAINCY

The European history of Canada has ascribed civilization in North America to the inception and the contributions of Europeans since the 15th century with a few anecdotes about the importance of alliances with Native population. Through revisit of the historical events, the contributions of the Natives have been acknowledged through the canonization of St. Kateri Tekakwita. What does this unfold about indigenous roles in Canadian History?

Multi-faith Chaplaincy invites Deacon Ronald Boyer and Orenda Boucher to this. discussion
